Supporting policing
in Kent and Essex

Dear Janet,

I am writing to thank you for the continuing partnership work you complete with us in the Kent Police Student Officer Community Placement Programme. The time, resources, patience and guidance that you show and provide to our student officers has such an impact on them as individuals but also as police officers for their future careers.

When a student attends your venue they are generally moved out of their comfort zone and definitely their normal environment. This is the start of their journey towards greater knowledge of a community that until now has been invisible or even avoided by them. By exposing the individual officers allows them to mould their service delivery to cater for a multitude of individual needs which they have the potential of coming across every day in their policing career.

It is for your selfless generosity in accepting and hosting our young officers within your challenging world that we would like to give you the attached Certificate of Appreciation, signed by the Chief Constable of Kent, Alan Pughsley QPM as a token of the young students, the training team and the organisations thanks for all your efforts.

We hope that you can continue to remain with us through this programme and hope that you can assist us deliver a first class service to the population of Kent. The training statement of 'trained by the community, with the community for the community', sums up the foundation of this placement programme. Thank you again for all your help.

Yours Faithfully,

Sarah Meloni
